Scranton Choral Society Met Last Night for Not place yesterday. Services were held at the late home of the deceased the Final Rehearsal Before the Big Eisteddfod.

national eisteddfod to be held in the new armory on Memorial day, took place last evening. The Scranton Choral society, which numbers about two hundied voices, male and female, and was not furnished, and the offender is which will compete for the $1,000 prize still lodging in the station house. at the cisteddfod, held the last rehearsal in St. David's hall. Hundreds of admirers were present, who heartly applauded the choir for its good work. The Oxford Male party also held a rehearsal in the same hall. Besides the above choruses, two more are entered in other competitions. Mrs. Nellie Moses Thomas's female chorus, which has achieved a most enviable name for its splendid work in the past at several eisteddfods, will also enter, and the Juvenile choir of the Tabernacle Congregational church, on South Hyde Park avenue, will compete for a prize of $75 on the selection, "The Night Interest on this side in the eistedd-

Social Session.

Last evening, West Side conclave, Improved Order of Heptasophs, held a social session in the rooms of the Robert Morris lodge. The attendance was large, and a long programme of solos, vocal and instrumental, and recitations, proved greatly pleasing to all. Fred Robison's harmonica selections were excellent and occasioned much applause. Hon, T. Jefferson Reynolds gave an oration, that was favorably received. Upon the conclusion of Mr. Reynolds' oration, refreshments were served by Caterer Robison.

Cemetery street, leading from North Main avenue to the Cathedral cemetery. is to be known hereafter as West Gibson street. The property holders along the thoroughfare do not like the idea of being residents of "Cemetery" street and not finding it convenient to move to some street with a more desirable name, concluded to change the name of the street.

Accordingly the owners of the plot which have been recently opened on either side of the street, have agreed to mark it on their maps as a continuation of Gibson street, which it would be if Gibson street was extended. When the street is formally deeded over to the city it will be known as West Gibson.

In the afternoon, the Choral union, of the Hickory Street German Presbyterian church, having been honored with an invitation to attend the Knights Templar concert and exercises at the Lyceum, idered "Gloria," from the Twelfth Mass, in a finished man-well-merited applause. The Scranton Saengerrunde, who will ompete in the new armory tomorrow morning, held their final rehearsal of he prize song last evening. There was full attendance of members in athetic hall, where the rehearsal was held, and the efforts and ability shown by the chorus was greatly appreciated by the many friends of the society who were present. Schimpff's hall was comfortably filled last evening by admirers of the lunger Maennerchor, who will also ake part in the eisteddfod tomorrow morning. They are entered in the same class as the Saengerrunde, and six other societies from various parts of the country will also compete. The Maennerchor has practiced dill-gently and faithfully to attain, as nearly as possible, a perfect rendition of the prize song, "Einkehr," which is intended for choruses of not over forty voices, and not less than thirty. The competition between the societies from this side has caused a much greae interest to be taken in the eisteddfod than usual, and hundreds from this side will flock to the armory tomorrow, so that by their presence they may cheer their favorite singers on to vic-

ELECTRIC LIGHT CONTRACT WAS AWARDED.

Council Passed a Resolution Last In connection with the Fifteenth Symphony Concert of the Night Providing for Execution of a Five-Year Contract with the Dunmore Electric Light Company at $82.50 Per Light—Ordinance SymphonyOrchestra Annulling Street Railway Franchise Introduced-Fire Company Ordinance Defeated.

The council met in special session last esolution was introduced by Mr. Mc-Allister, providing for the execution of a contract with the Dunmore Electric Light company for lighting the streets year. This was passed unanimously. Winton Traction company was introduced by Mr. Brogan, and passed first the company has refused to live up to its part of the agreement, made when the franchise was given, in regards to furnishing free lights on Blakely street and planking its rails. Ordinance No. 89, known as the fire company ordinance, was defeated on third reading, Messrs. McAllister and Doudican only voting in favor of it. Had it passed it would have thrown the Anthracite company out of the fire department and only allowed each company thirty-five members, as well as providing that the chief of the department must have been an active member for five years and making his term of office three years instead of one, as heretofore, There were no bids received for the $35,000 issue of sewer bonds, and no action was taken. The chances are that the sewer question will not trouble the people again this year, if it ever does again in its present form.

THE IDEAL STUDENT.

His Qualities Defined Concisely by the Late Cecil Rhodes. From His Last Will and Testament

My desire being that the students wh shall be elected to the scholarships shall not be merely bookworms, I direct that in the election of a student to a scholar ship regard shall be had to (i) his literary and scholastic attainments, (ii) his fondness of and success in manly outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like; (iii) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for the protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness, and fellowship, and (iv) his exhibition dur-ing schooldays of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates, for those latter attributes will be likely in afterlife to guide him to esteem the per-1st, 1902. formance of public duties as his highest aim. As mere suggestions for th guidance of those who will have the choice of students for the scholarships, I record that (i) my ideal qualified student would combine these four qualifications in the proportions of threetenths for the first, two-tenths for the second, three-tenths for the third, and two-tenths for the fourth qualification. so that, according to my ideas, if the maximum number of marks for any scholarship were 200, they would be apportioned as follows-60 to each of the first and third qualifications and 40 to each of the second and fourth qualifications: (ii) the marks for the severa qualifications would be awarded independently as follows. (that is to say), the marks for the first qualification by examination, for the second and third qualifications, respectively, by ballot by the fellow-students of the candidates and for the fourth qualification by the head master of the candidate's school, and (iii) the results of the awards (that is to say, the marks obtained by each candidate for each qualification) would be sent as soon as possible for consid eration to the trustees or to some person or persons appointed to receive the same, and the person or persons so appointed would ascertain by averaging all candidates the best ideal qualified
